

Bioteco

The sturgeon species Acipenser naccarii has survived for more than 250 million years. During its evolution, it has developed a cartilaginous skeleton unlike most animals which have a bony one. All this, along with the effort of its immune system, has enabled sturgeon to defend itself from all kind of diseases, pathologies and climate changes.

Bioteco ensures 18 years older sturgeons, produced under organic standards, thus free of synthetic chemical products, of GMOs (Genetically Modified Organisms) and in general of any product which may cause a risk for consumers' health or environment.
